Report for Commodity Derivatives Market on 16.11.2022. 2.15 PM to 3.45 PM

The PG and Research Department of Commerce has organized Guest lecture on Commodity Derivatives Market on 16.11.2022. at 2.15 PM to 3.45 PM, Dr.K.Prabhakaran Director, Edify EdTech, Empanelled Resource Person of SEBI & NCDEX Coimbatore. Has acted as the resource person. This programme has given inputs about need and steps involved in Commodity derivatives are financial instruments whose value is based on underlying commodities, such as oil, gas, metals, agricultural products and minerals.

The following concept were conveyed by the Resource Person Traded in the Commodity Derivatives Market

❖ How to Start Trading in Commodities?

Open a Demat Account with a Reputed Stockbroker. Just like you need a demat account to trade in stocks, you need a demat account to trade in commodities. Deposit an Initial Amount. Direct Investment. Purchase Stocks. Commodity ETFs and Mutual Funds. Bottom Line.

❖ Defining Commodity and Commodity Derivatives A commodity is generally defined as a group of items or assets that can be traded or exchanged. It should, however, be noted that all goods except for money and claims can be bought and sold.

❖ Commodity derivatives are financial instruments that allow investors to profit from commodities without actually owning them, according to the definition. A derivatives contract entails the right to exchange a commodity at a later date for a specified price.

❖ Types of Commodities that are Generally Traded Typically the nature of commodities is divided into hard and soft commodities, and then there may be a distinction between those traded locally, regionally, or in a geographical location such as India. Then there are those types of commodities that are traded on a global scale.
